Antioch Gets Ready For New Year's Eve After Fine Christmas

Holiday Business for Antioch Merchants Broke Most Sales Records

Antioch rallied from the feasting of Christmas and today prepared to take the next holiday in stride—New Year's Day.

Christmas was rather quiet so far as public celebrations were concerned, most of the parties being held in homes or became merely family affairs.

Church services drew a fair attendance.

Antioch merchants were re-arranging their stocks today, at least that which was left, after the biggest holiday trade they have ever experienced. Some of the stores which close regularly on Wednesday, closed as usual yesterday, giving the weary clerks the extra rest. This no doubt will be repeated next week when New Year's again falls on Tuesday.

Inventories of stocks are now in progress.

New Year's Eve will see various kinds of celebrations in the Antioch area. Dining places and taverns, especially those that offer special attraction will no doubt attract many.

Young people may be expected to gather in groups for their midnight parties while the older folk will be content to watch celebration over television or hear it over radio.

The Lakes Theatre will run a midnight show with the box office remaining open until 12:15 a. m. The William Wyler production, "Friendly Persuasion", starring Gary Cooper, and co-starring Dorothy McGuire and Marjorie Main will be the attraction.

Mrs. Ward Wilton, 34, Dies After Brief Illness

Mrs. Ward Wilton, 34, 3902 70th St., died at Kenosha hospital Saturday morning following a short illness. She was born Virginia Dorothy Turner in Chicago, July 7, 1922, daughter of the late George Turner and Mrs. Fred Albright.

Mrs. Wilton spent her early life in Chicago and came to Kenosha in 1942 to make her home. On Aug. 2, 1941, she was married to Ward Wilton.

For six years, Mrs. Wilton was employed at the Marshall Field Curtains factory in Zion. Later she was employed by the Warwick Co., Zion.

Survivors besides her husband include her mother, Mrs. Albright, Kenosha; and one brother, Raymond, Kenosha. Besides her father she was preceded in death by a sister, Mrs. Genevieve Elliott, and two brothers, Edward and George.

Roger Lang Will Start In North Chicago Game

Roger Lang will be in the starting lineup of the Antioch Sequoits when the team takes the floor at Ingleside tonight against North Chicago. He will replace Lonnie Christensen. Sid Parker is expected to see much play. Other members who will be on the game are Jerry Huml, Wayne Herbst, Art Hanke, Tom Gudgeon and Frank Perdon.

Quite a few of the Antioch fans will attend the game which will start at 8:45 p.m. Both the winners and losers of this game will play tomorrow night.

Grant, favored to win the tourney, proved to live up to expectations in the first game Wednesday night by trouncing Warren 81 to 63. Glenbrook lost to McHenry in a thriller 60 to 61. Grant and McHenry will meet tonight at 9:15 to decide which will be a finalist.

A third game Wednesday evening saw Lake Forest win over Wauconda 64 to 44.

Antioch will meet a powerful North Chicago team tonight to decide whether Antioch will go into the elimination or the consolation bracket. If Antioch beats the North Chicago team tonight they will meet Lake Forest Friday at 8:30 p.m. If North Chicago is the winner, the Sequoits will play Wauconda.

One other game will be played tonight with Warren and Glenbrook meeting in the second game. Antioch will meet North Chicago at 8:45 p.m. Local fans believe that if the Sequoits can win the game tonight that they will stand a good chance to come out winners of the tourney.

No Mail Deliveries Tuesday
There will be no mail deliveries on Antioch rural routes on New Year's Day. There were none on Christmas either. The lobby of the post office will be open in the forenoon Tuesday.

Bill Would Make Legal Test of Drunken Driver

In an effort to control drunken driving, a bill will be introduced in the Illinois legislature this month calling for a chemical test in case of suspected drunken driving, this to be made a part of the Driver's License law.

Another bill will be introduced calling for a Division of the 50 million revenue, designating 50% for rehabilitation of alcoholics.

Those supporting the measures charge that 55% of the fatalities involve drunken drivers.

Antioch Beats Fenton; Plays North Chicago Tonight at Ingleside

Frosh-Soph Team Leading N. W. Conference With No Defeats as Yet

The Antioch High varsity will have an opportunity to avenge the defeat of the sophomores at the hands of North Chicago last week when they meet the Warhawk varsity at 6:45 p.m. today in the Grant High invitational tournament at Ingleside.

The Sequoit-Warhawk game will be the last of the first round, Grant and Wren, Glenbrook and McHenry and Wauconda and Lake Forest having played yesterday.

Antioch will play her next game, win or lose, tomorrow evening, in either the semi-final or the consolation game.

Three conferences will be represented in this tournament. Grant, as an undefeated team, is considered a favorite.

The Sequoits won a battle at Fenton Friday night 66 to 65. The game not only nip and tuck, but there were times when it appeared that both teams had the game sewed up, only to see the opposition close a wide gap.

The Bisons led the quarter 18-16, but at the half the Sequoits were out in front 38 to 31 and it appeared that the game easily would be theirs.

Sequoits Led at Half
Then within three minutes after the second half opened, Fenton roared back to within two points of Antioch's 50 point score, and at the same length of time in the fourth period were ahead 54 to 50.

Sid Parker, whose injured knee has kept him from playing, entered the game and made four straight set shots to tie the score with but three minutes remaining in the game.

The Bison's went ahead on a foul shot, then the Sequoits took the (continued on page 7)

Teacher Organizations Meet in Chicago Today

The 103rd Annual Meeting of the Illinois Education Association will be held in the Hotel Sherman, Chicago, today, tomorrow and Saturday.

Dr. Irving F. Pearson, Executive Secretary of the association, said that the meeting will be centered about the problems created by the rapidly increasing number of births which result in increased school enrollments, needed classrooms, shortage of teachers in the public schools from kindergarten through college and university, school finance, and taxation. Emphasis will also be placed upon ways and means of developing a better understanding of these problems by both the teachers and the general public.

It was pointed out by Dr. Pearson that the public schools are the business of all the people, but that teachers must assume a responsibility above and beyond that of the general public.

The annual banquet will be held in the Grand Ballroom of the Hotel Sherman, Dec. 28. Dr. J. Lester Buford, superintendent of the Mount Vernon public schools, and immediate past president of the National Education Association, will be the principal speaker.

Dr. David Henry, President of the University of Illinois, will address the delegates at the Saturday morning session. His topic will be "Some Common Ties in Diverse Educational Service."

Several other affiliated organizations will hold meetings in conjunction with the Illinois Education Association convention.

Antioch Postal Carriers Qualify as Safe Drivers

Four postal vehicle drivers in Antioch will begin the New Year with a fresh look toward highway safety. Postmaster Roy Kufalk announced today. All Antioch postal drivers have qualified for the new U.S. Government Vehicle Operators' Identification Card which is required by law passed by Congress last Spring.

Road tests, physical examinations, and safe driver training culminated the intensive safety program in the Post Office Department. All postal drivers in the States of Illinois and Michigan, including rural carriers, now have qualified by taking the comprehensive tests. When the program is completed nationwide, all of the Postal Department's 96,000 vehicle operators, largest fleet of automobile drivers in the land, will have the exams. Collectively it is the biggest safety campaign ever accomplished in America.

Fear Year End Toll Governor Stratton Calls for Full Police Strength Over Holidays

The Lake County Safety Commission went into emergency session at Waukegan yesterday at the call of Chairman P. M. O'Connell to deal with traffic over this weekend and New Year's.

Distressed over the fact that Lake County has recorded an all-time high of 90 traffic fatalities this year in contrast to 64 last year, O'Connell asked the commission to deal with the problem.

He told members that 15 per cent of the drivers travel at speeds in excess of 65 miles an hour and that it is these drivers who contribute mainly to fatal accidents.

Police departments in all villages and the sheriff's department will be asked to crack down on speeders and drunken drivers.

Since passage of a resolution by the commission 10 days ago there have been six deaths. The 90th one occurred Christmas Day on Rte. 41 north of Gurnee, when Chester Tishack, 49, of 2647 S. 28th St., Milwaukee dashed onto the road in front of a car driven by Anthony Klesen, 4836 Wabansin Ave., Chicago.

Several motorists told Sheriff's Deputies Thomas Cusker and Le Roy Grever that the Milwaukee man had been running in front of other cars there, but they had managed to dodge him.

McHenry County's traffic deaths for the year now stand at 40 in contrast to 30 last year.

Orders Leaves Cancelled
Governor William G. Stratton has ordered Illinois State Police to use their full strength of men and equipment to prevent auto crashes on highways during New Year week end. Police leaves of absence have been canceled. Auxiliary police units are being called on to help handle motor vehicle traffic during the holidays.

Radar equipment will be used throughout the state to detect speeding motorists, the governor warned. Unmarked cars and the usual black cars from other state agencies will be used by the police.

The governor pointed to a recent report by the Division of Highways showing speed and driving while intoxicated as the leading causes of auto crashes during the 1955 holiday season. All police officers have been asked to watch sharply for these offenses, and the governor requested traffic courts to be just but firm in handling such cases.

C. of C. Considers Historical Festival

Members of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce are giving thought to a historical celebration of the village.

The first house in the village was erected in April, 1937 by Thomas and Daniel Gage north of Sequoit creek back of the present Lux property. Next April will be the 120th anniversary of that date.

Other important dates in the history of the village are its incorporation in 1892, and the naming of the village in 1850 when 85 votes favored Antioch and 60 favored Windsor.

Preference Means Discrimination

A bulletin issued by an independent utility company asks "Do you realize that four out of every five of us in the United States are helping pay for the electric bills of the fifth? That's a fact. There are two main reasons for it. One is the tax subsidies that go to socialized electric systems. The other is the preference clause.

That clause is a device in the law whereby public power districts, municipal systems, and cooperatives get first choice in buying electricity from federal power projects for which we all must pay taxes to build. Only after they have taken what they want do the rest of us—the overwhelming majority served by taxpaying power companies—get any. This is as if the post office department should build some houses in a community with the general taxpayers' money and then announce: "We'll give preference in mail delivery to these houses, and only after they are served, and if we have any time left, will be taken care of the rest of the people." In other words, it is "preference" for the few—and "discrimination" against the many.

There is neither logic nor justice in the preference policy. And the way it began is an example of how great oaks from little acorns grow. In 1906 Congress decided that surplus electricity from irrigation projects should be used for "municipal purposes." This was small potatoes then, and apparently no one paid much attention to it. But it's a big matter now.

There's no room for either preference or discrimination in a free country.

"On the Job" Teacher Training

The value of practical experience, as an important part of training in virtually every field of endeavor, is unquestioned. Michigan State University is proving that such experience is no less important in the critical job of training teachers.

This year, 300 M.S.U. students are teaching full-time in 13 Michigan communities before receiving college degrees as "full-fledged" teachers. Thus, in the community itself, they are able to see the problems a community must face and learn the viewpoints of parents and others without the orientation period that often is trying for all concerned.

Such a program could be adopted by many other schools and communities to the mutual benefit of everyone.

The Natural Gas Problem

This country has a vast source of energy in its natural gas, and use of this fuel for both domestic and commercial purposes has tremendously increased. But under present conditions, its full potentialities cannot be realized.

The reason lies in a Supreme Court decision, now more than two years old, which said in effect that the Federal Power Commission must take regulatory jurisdiction over natural gas production in the oil fields. This, many feel, was not the will of Congress. The gas producers—of whom there are thousands—are in no sense public utilities. They have no protected markets. Their work is intensely competitive and highly risky.

The remedy lies in Congressional action to free these producers of a form of regulation which must inevitably force a reduction in the sinking of new wells and result in a diminishing gas supply—at the expense of consumers all over the country. Congress did pass such a bill early this year, but it was vetoed by the President because of unethical lobbying methods had been used on behalf of the measure. He did not use the veto power because he felt the bill was in itself a bad one—indeed, in the veto message, Mr. Eisenhower endorsed the bill's objective and principal provisions.

It is expected that a strong effort backed by leaders of both parties—will be made to pass a similar bill when Congress convenes again. The national interest, as well as the interest of natural gas users, demands this to be done.

Treason to Freedom

Maxwell Anderson, in his book, "The Guaranteed Life," wrote: "The greatest enemies of democracy, the most violent reactionaries, are those who have lost faith in the capacity of a free people to manage their own affairs and wish to set up the government as a political and social guardian, running their business and making their decisions for them. This is statism or Stalinism, no matter who advocates it, and it's plain treason to freedom."

It is an unhappy irony that the fine old word "liberal" has been appropriated by people who want the government to run everything, decide everything, and boss everyone. This is as far from classical and traditional liberalism as man can get. The advocates of the super-state are, as Mr. Anderson pointed out, the real reactionaries.

Senator Borah Was Wrong

In an earlier era, it seems clear, the advocates of the federal income tax had no conception of the extent to which it would grow—and the tremendous portion it would take from the earnings of the people.

In defending this tax, the late Senator Borah once said: "The great and honored lawyer, Joseph Choate, denounced such a tax as socialistic. He said that if you levy a tax of two per cent, you can lay a tax of fifty per cent or a hundred per cent."

"Who will lay the tax of fifty per cent or a hundred per cent? Whose equity, sense of fairness, of justice, of patriotism, does he question?"

"Why the representatives of the American people—not only that, but the intelligence, the fairness, the justice of the people themselves, to whom their representatives are always answerable."

Senator Borah was a famous and able man, but in this case he could hardly have been more wrong. An income tax of 50 per cent now applies at levels which are far from great wealth. And in the top bracket the tax is 91 per cent—only 9 per cent short of the total expropriation that Joseph Choate feared.

Moreover, even in relatively modest brackets, the tax collector hits very hard. Taxes, direct and indirect, account for about one-third of a $7,500 annual income. And a man earning $85 a week works more hours to pay his taxes than to pay for his food and clothing combined.

Health Talk

Resolution For Good Health
Are you one of the many persons who have made resolutions for the coming year? Have you promised yourself to overcome the bad habits and strive for better ones? In your sincere desire to lead a better life, have you thought, to be complete, this should also include a special attempt to keep you healthy and well, the Educational Committee of the Illinois State Medical Society asks in HEALTH TALK.

How can you go about this? First of all, what is the state of your health? When did you have your last physical examination? Simply because you've been feeling comparatively well does not mean that some condition does not exist that, if left undetected, will cause illness. Late-ly you seem to tire easily, but you attributed this to the hurry and bustle of the holidays. But is it? Remember fatigue is associated with a number of conditions that could be remedied.

What about your heart, lungs, ears and eyes? When was your blood pressure checked? Are you sure it is within the normal range for your age and weight? A good physical examination is the best insurance you have for these answers.

Ask your physician to give you a thorough check-up. Have an x-ray examination of your chest so that you can be eliminated from the group of persons walking about with latent tuberculosis. See that your ears are free of infection and that your vision is adequate. Eye strain is responsible for such conditions as headache, dizziness, nausea and irritable disposition.

The physical examination should include a urinalysis. One important condition this reveals is diabetes. Eliminate yourself as a suspect.

Have you noticed any peculiar lumps on your body? Perhaps not, because some of these are so small they go undetected until they are felt by the sensitive diagnostic fingers of your physician. Remember that any unusual growth should be investigated, for this is a manifestation of cancer. On the other hand, the tiny tumor may not be malignant at all. Why not be sure than sorry?

Your physical examination should not end with your physician. A visit to your dentist is essential. Again an x-ray examination of your teeth and gums is necessary to rule out abnormalities. Good dental care is important, since infections of the mouth numerous, painful and incapacitating.

The human machine is a wonderful structure, but, like many mechanical appliances, if not kept in good operating condition it breaks down. Perhaps the collapse won't be complete, but a part here and there needs repairs to restore coordination and good function.

Preventive medicine is one of the foremost advances in modern medicine. Not only can certain diseases be obviated through immunization, but they can be overcome should they be detected early.

Let your resolutions for a better life include one to have a physical examination. Then activate it. Don't let your wish for good health die in the well of wishful thinking. Check in the New Year with a check on your health.

More Than One Half Of All High Schools Give Driver Course

Fifty-one per cent of the public high schools in the United States now provide driver education, which the National Safety Council declares is one of the most promising methods to reduce the traffic accident toll.

At the end of the 1948-49 school year, only 29 per cent of the nation's public high schools offered driver education, according to the council.

Recognition of the importance of driver education has been growing among educators and parents, the Council states, with many women's clubs and parent-teacher organizations taking the lead.

As an example, the Council cited the top winner in the last Carol Lane award program. The Decatur, Ga., Business and Professional Women's Club was instrumental in providing driver education in 11 county high schools.

The Carol Lane Awards are administered by the Council under a grant of the Shell Oil Co. to recognize and award the achievements of women in support of traffic safety.

The Council announced that the deadline for entries in the 1957 award program is June 15. Named for the women's travel director of Shell, the awards are open to any American women, women's club or parents' group. Awards in each category are $1,000, $500 and $250 savings bonds, as well as bronze statuettes. Information may be obtained from the Council at 425 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago.

lead on Frank Ferdon's set shot, moving still farther on Wayne Herbst's layup, which made the score 62-59. Tom Gudgeon layed one in and Herbst connected on a jump shot, which stretched the score to 66-61 with just a minute remaining and it looked an easy Antioch victory. But field goals by Terry Biefeld and Lars Hendrickson narrowed the gap and the latter had a chance to win the game on an open shot, but failed and the buzzer sounded.

Ferdon, the sophomore recruit, was high scorer with 18 points, while next in line were Jerry Huml, 16 Herbst, 14, and Parker 10.

Suez Stoppage Causes Gas Rationing in Europe

Six Western European countries and Turkey have put gas rationing into effect, or will do so by Jan. 1. This information was received by the Chicago Motor Club's Travel Bureau from its affiliate in New York City, the International Travel department of the American Automobile Association.

In releasing the information, Curtis F. Proud, manager of the Motor Club's Travel Bureau, said:

"The nations of Western Europe are doing everything within their power to supply sufficient quantities of gasoline for present and future visitors. But the situation is extremely fluid."

According to the Motor Club, there is no gasoline rationing for American visitors in the following countries: Austria, Belgium, Denmark, Finland, Germany, Greece, Ireland, Italy, The Netherlands, Norway, Portugal, Spain, Sweden and Switzerland.

Rationing is in effect in Denmark, France, Luxembourg, Monaco, and Turkey. Great Britain is to start Dec. 17, and Ireland on Jan. 1. But it has been arranged in Denmark that dollars will buy gasoline anywhere in the country, according to Alex Dessau, director of the Danish national travel office in New York.

Timothy J. O'Driscoll, director general of the Irish Tourist board, also announced in New York.

"American tourists in Ireland for 1957 need have no concern about availability of gasoline for American or rented cars. The government is allocating adequate petrol supply for overseas visitors."

Great Britain "expects to allow visitors 200 miles per month. Rental organizations will receive generous allowances on a weekly advance basis."

The AAA International Travel department's London manager added: "Visitors from abroad will probably receive 1,000 miles of allowance from port of entry to port of departure."

In Luxembourg, tourists are "expected to receive generous allowances." In France, gasoline is said to be difficult to obtain. But the government is studying a plan to allow any visitor to report to the prefecture of whatever department he is in to receive his allotment. It is expected that France will give "special consideration" to travelers from abroad and car rental organizations.

In Monaco, the situation is the same as in France. In Turkey, visitors receive a daily allotment of gasoline for driving and may fill their tanks when leaving the country.

Bond Sales for Co. Are Almost Million

Lake County residents purchased a total of $889,930 in Series E and H United States Savings Bonds during the month of November, 1956, according to word received from the Treasury Department by James E. Brown of Waukegan and Philip L. Speidel of Lake Forest, Volunteer Savings Bonds County Co-Chairmen. Of this amount $14,055,111, was in Series E bonds and the remainder, $1,906,000, in current interest Series H bonds.

Sales in the state of Illinois amounted to $31,340,145, in both Series for the month, accounting for 8.6% of national sales which totaled $365,936,000. 84.1% of the Illinois quota for 1956 has been reached in the first eleven months. The quota for this year is $509,800,000.

Squad Treats Pat Miller

The Antioch Rescue Squad was called to the Pat Miller residence, Petite Lake, Wednesday evening at nine o'clock, to administer first aid to Mr. Miller, who was experiencing difficulty in breathing. The squad called a Doctor and it is thought that the attack was not serious.

Some confusion in making the call was caused by the Squad receiving direction to reach the Miller place and the squad first went to The Kempf Resort. The resort is closed for the season.

Waste Paper Pickup Saturday

A waste paper drive will be conducted Saturday by the Antioch Boy Scouts. Persons with paper to be picked up are asked to tie it in bundles and place at the curb or door. More information on the plans for the pick-up can be obtained by calling Antioch, Phone 1035, or 461.

Keeping milk too soon after the cow has been treated with antibiotics is causing trouble for cheese producers, reports the January issue of Successful Farming magazine. Levels of antibiotics in milk from treated cows are low enough 72 hours after treatment ends for human use; however, enough drugs still remain in the milk to interfere with cheese ripening.

When baking chocolate cakes, dust greased cake pans with cocoa instead of flour. This prevents the dark from being spotted with white on the bottoms. Successful Farming magazine, January, 1957.

Keep a small sheet of waxed paper or transparent plastic to keep over recipe cards when in use, suggests the January issue of Successful Farming magazine. This keeps each recipe card clean, but still easily readable. Any spills can be wiped off quickly.

Insurance Study Shows South, West Are Faring Better

NEW YORK—Life insurance policy benefits going into the South and West in recent years have been increasing at a much more rapid rate than in the rest of the country, the Institute of Life Insurance reports.

Last year's benefit payments under life insurance policies owned in the Southern and Western States were 60 percent greater than in 1950, while they were 38 percent greater in the rest of the country. The increase from 1940 in death benefit payments alone in the South and West was nearly 175 percent, while for the rest of the country it was 107 percent.

"The increase in the flow of benefit payments is a direct reflection of the greater-than-average rise in life insurance ownership in those areas, which is, in turn, a reflection of the population and industry shifts of the past decade or two," the Institute said. "It demonstrates, however, the speed with which life insurance dollars follow our families in their changes of residence and improvements in circumstances."

Population in the West South Central, Mountain and Pacific States, combined, in 1955 was 44 percent above the 1940 level; in the East South Central and South Atlantic States it was up 23 percent, and in the rest of the country 10 percent. Income in 1955 of families in the Southwest and West was 378 percent above the 1940 level, while the rise in the Southeast and South Central was 320 percent and in the rest of the country 251 percent.

1956 Turkey Crop Was Record Production

MINNEAPOLIS—One and three-quarter turkeys for every family in the United States—that is what the record 1956 crop of over 76 million birds amounted to.

In 1950, we produced slightly more than one turkey—44 million—for each U.S. family. Back in 1930, only 17 million turkeys were produced, a little more than one-half a bird for each family, the bureau says.

Thus, we produced in 1956 approximately four times as many turkeys as we raised a quarter of a century ago. Several factors have contributed to this enormous increase; new varieties which could be marketed much younger; reduction in labor required and in bird mortality, through new scientific methods, which has made year around marketing possible; attractive packaging and display in modern food stores; and in the case of the 1956 spurt in production, a favorable feed situation and the memory of good profits on the 65-million-bird crop of 1955.

Music Is Vital Part Of American Life

CHICAGO—America is experiencing a great new "Golden Age" in musical activity. More than ever before music is playing a vital part in our schools, in industry, in community life and in the home.

New teaching methods and technological advances make learning easier, turn it into an enjoyable social activity and greatly reduce the cost of lessons. The recognition that music is one of the greatest trainers of personality has led to a strong trend toward including music in a well-rounded education for successful living.

The American Music Conference estimates that more than one person in every six in the United States regularly plays some kind of musical instrument. Latest estimate on the number of persons who play an instrument is 27,650,000. In 1936 it was 14,300,000.

Factory Worker Safer On Job Than at Home

NEW YORK—The American factory employee today is safer at work than he is off the job.

In 1926—the first year for which national figures are available—there were in U.S. manufacturing industries, 24.2 lost-time injuries for every million man-hours worked.

That hour has constantly declined, until today it stands at less than half that rate—11.9 for the second quarter of 1956.

The greatly reduced rate of total lost-time injuries gains even greater significance, when it is considered that the 1926 rate applied to less than 10 million employees, while the 1956 figure applies to almost 17 million employees.

Cartons Can Sell

CHICAGO—Folding box manufacturers are developing cartons with eye appeal for all sorts of products, one of the newest being a line of seafoods. Boxes containing attractive pictures in color of the particular product, making it easy for the consumer to identify as well as reminding her that it is an appetizing menu item.

Television May Help Solve Our Teacher Shortage

NEW YORK—One of the most troublesome problems in developing new teachers is the fact that many adults who like to teach cannot afford the necessary additional academic work. For many it means quitting a job and going back to school many miles from home. Relatively few people have a college or university near enough to allow them on weekends or in evenings to complete the requisite classwork.

However, the Texas Education Agency has a brand new approach to this problem which it will try out this fall. This is to prepare liberal arts graduates for teaching by open circuit television. This project has the cooperation of 51 colleges and universities, leading school systems of the state, eight TV stations, the Texas Association of School Board Members, Parent-Teacher Associations and Junior Leagues. Texas thus makes education courses available right in the homes and blankets the state with them at no cost or travel inconvenience to the teacher-prospect.

Another new project using television is planned by the University of Alabama through its extension division. The Alabama educational TV station is able to reach approximately 95 percent of the people and schools—a larger percentage than can be reached by an educational TV station in any other state.

Water Important To Rural Home

CHICAGO—Whatever other problems a move to the country may seem to pose, water supply no longer is one of them.

Thanks to modern well drilling techniques and efficiency of electrically-powered pumping equipment, the homeowner who has to provide for his own water supply can count on a source every bit as satisfactory as city-supplied water.

But—before buying a lot and building in the country, determine the availability of ground water in the area. Once this is settled, the papers signed and a general contractor engaged to do the building, the next step is to choose a competent well drilling contractor to develop a water source.

When the well is delivering water and has been tested for capacity, it is time to decide on a pump for the electric water system. No pump can deliver water faster than the well can supply it. It is unwise to size a pump entirely on the basis of current requirements. Needs are bound to grow as families increase in size.

Amazing Feature of Long-Preserved Body

CHICAGO—Autopsy of a body which was known to have been immersed in fresh water for six years revealed a "most amazing medical feature," according to a report in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

When first examined the body was in a "remarkable state of preservation," with the skin intact and the size, shape, consistency and location of all the internal organs appearing like those of a body freshly examined. Dr. Walter Lennino, a New York radiologist, said.

But when tissues from the various organs were examined microscopically, the amazing feature emerged. The individual cells and tissues were found to have completely dissolved, so that it was impossible to tell from which organ the tissue came.

Wage-Salary Share of National Income Is Up

Wage and salary payments and supplements represent 70 cents of every dollar of national income, according to an analysis of data compiled by the U.S. Department of Commerce. This is a new high proportion, and compares with a ratio of 64 cents in both 1950 and 1940, and with less than 60 cents in 1929.

The seasonally adjusted figures at annual rates show that compensation of employees made up $237.2 billions of the $338.7 billions of national income in the second quarter of this year. Nearly $14 billions of the compensation total consists of supplements to wages and salaries, largely employer contributions to private and public retirement and welfare funds.

Waste of Energy

CHICAGO—Two Massachusetts researchers say that general warming-up—including massage, hot showers, and general exercise aimed at raising body temperatures—does not improve athletic performance.

Peter V. Karpovich, M.D., and Creighton Hale, Ph.D., based their observations on a series of experiments they ran on athletes at Springfield College, Springfield, Mass.

Most Frequently
Are Fire VictimsCHICAGO — Most frequent victims of clothing fires are children and elderly people.Children's clothing catches fire when they are playing with matches, playing around stoves or heaters, and too close to outdoor fires. Elderly people's clothing catches fire when they use stoves carelessly, warm themselves at fireplaces and radiant heaters, or fall asleep while smoking.Some clothes, because of the way the cloth is made or because of the style of the garment, are more dangerous than others.Therefore, beware of light weight, loosely fitting clothes, ruffles, flounces, kimono type sleeves, filmy nets and gauze. Also beware of sweaters with brushed long fibres for some ignite easily and burn intensely.Remember that most clothing fires occur because of the wearer's carelessness. Train yourself and your family always to be careful in the presence of open flames, heaters, stoves and other sources of ignition.Select the safest material available. If a safe substitute cannot be found, it will be possible to reduce the hazard of some fabrics by flameproofing.Olympic Quiz

Games?When were the games fixed by professional gamblers? When were contestants required to take an oath before being allowed to compete? What city supported its Olympic winners for life out of the public treasury?All these incidents took place centuries ago when the games were the exclusive property of the Greeks. Origin of the games reaches back more than 3,000 years ago when the contests were held on the plain of Olympia northwest of Sparta as a tribute to the Greek god, Zeus.Dr. Arthur Patch McKinlay, emeritus professor of Latin at UCLA says strict rules were developed to stop fixing of the athletic events by gamblers. A contestant convicted of taking a bribe was heavily fined and the money used to set up bronze images of Zeus.Only Greeks of pure descent could take part in the games and oaths had to be taken by the contestants and their trainers promising to abide by the rules.
Olympic heroes from Athens got the best prize of all. They were supported for life out of public funds.

Study Shows Athletes

Live Long as Anybody

CHICAGO—Athletes live just as long and die of the same causes as do nonathletes, a Michigan State University survey has shown.The effects of intensive athletic competition on the heart and other organs and on bodily resistance to disease have long been the subject of controversy and it was believed that athletic competition shortened life expectancy. Some studies have indicated that the life expectancy of former college athletes is greater than that of the general population, but shorter than that of college "intellectuals," while others have shown no difference.The Michigan State study was set up because it was thought that a comparison of athletes to their classmates might give more valid information.There May Be Some Help for Nasty ColdNEW YORK — With colds a plenty this time of year, there is good reason to believe that, unlike taxes, relief is in sight. The hopeful prospect stems from the report of a new vaccine effective against one type of cold. Presently being mass tested, and not available commercially, the vaccine offers protection from one of the ten known forms of "grippe" virus.
This one causes sore throat, laryngitis, swollen glands, conjunctivitis and about six days' fever.The "gimmick," of course, is that the vaccine will not prevent getting the common cold or the eight other cold-like respiratory infections which afflict most of us.
But medical science is now confident it is on the right track.

Plenty Anti-Freeze

CHICAGO—About 110 million gallons of chemical anti-freeze solutions were sold in 1955 to protect America's 60 million automobiles, trucks and buses from winter freeze-up, a recent report shows.Nearly three-quarters of the total was in the higher-priced permanent, or ethylene glycol, type products, while the remaining 31 million gallons were of the methanol type. Retail value of the 1955 sales was estimated at least $280 million.

State Secretary Urges Motorists to Purchase Licenses During Lull

Springfield, Ill., Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter today urged motorists to get 1957 automobile License plates during the lull.
Mr. Carpenter said that after a heavy flow of applications during the reassignment period and on the first day of over-the-counter sales in Springfield and Chicago, volume has dropped off.

At present, employees of the Automobile Department are not receiving enough mail applications to keep them working at peak capacity, and any applications received now can be processed faster than will be possible later, Secretary Carpenter said.
At the two over-the-counter outlets, he said, there is no waiting in line now and plates can be obtained in a matter of a few minutes.

Secretary Carpenter pointed out that the deadline for display of 1957 plates will be no later than February 15.

Tips on Traffic Safety

By CHARLES F. CARPENTIER
Secretary of State

Oddly enough, many parents continue to allow their children to stand on the seat while their vehicle is in motion. Apparently they are completely unaware of the risks involved in allowing children to do this.

A motorist can never tell when a sudden stop will have to be made. Such a stop could cause a child to strike his head against the dashboard or to fall to the floor. Needless to say, a serious injury could result from such an incident.

DON'T ALLOW THIS

In this day, when more and more drivers are turning to safety belts for their own safety as well as for the safety of passengers in their vehicles, it is difficult to imagine other motorists allowing children to stand in an auto while it is in motion.

A copy of the completely new "Rules of the Road" booklet will be sent to you free upon request. Write to CHARLES F. CARPENTIER, Secretary of State, Springfield, Illinois.

OUT ON A LIMB

By Stumpy McCulloch

Last winter, Ol' Zeke bought himself one of them prefabricated houses. But the house turned out to be a complete failure, and he wrote a rip-roaring letter to the manufacturer.

An inspector came out to investigate. "You idiot," he roared, "you've put up the whole thing upside down!" "Oh, that's the trouble, is it?" replied Ol' Zeke. "No wonder I kept fallin' off the porch!"

Lots of farmers are making extra money these days by growing Christmas trees—either as a separate crop, or as a secondary product from wood lots managed for timber.

A Christmas tree crop is valuable — to it's important to protect it properly against fire, disease, insects, grazing and trespassing. A good road system through the entire area will make it easier to harvest your trees, and it'll provide fire protection, too. And usually you'll cut skid roads prior to harvesting.

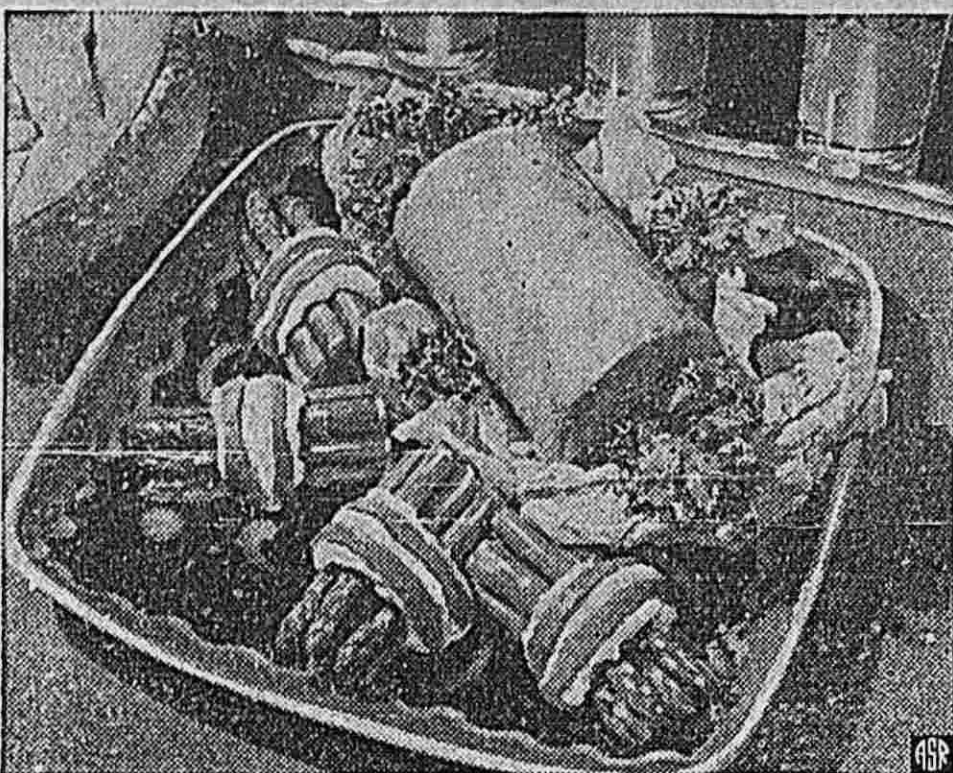

Thinning is necessary if a Christmas-tree farm is to be kept productive. When trees become too thick, they quickly lose their market value. So some of the trees should be removed to provide additional growing space for the rest. I like to do my thinning at harvest time, always saving the best trees to increase in size and improve in quality. And after thinning, I always kill the stump by removing all the green branches. 'Cause, if you don't, these branches will fill in the openings, making it impossible for remaining trees to take advantage of the additional growing space!

I prune my Christmas trees by removing the lower limbs of thin-foliated trees. This stimulates heavier growth in the top. Generally, this type of pruning is used on trees that are thin-topped, forked, or diseased. Also trees that'll produce four-to-six-foot Christmas trees within two to four years after being pruned. Thin-foliated trees retard the growth of smaller trees, but wouldn't if they were pruned.

I think Christmas-tree growin' can be a mighty profitable enterprise, and there's a lot of satisfaction in it, too!

A pigeon came home late for dinner one evening, with his feathers bedraggled and his eyes bloodshot. "I was out raidin' my own business," he explained, "when bingo! I got caught in a badminton game!"

Salad Designed For The Time

Boost your meal planning reputation during the warmer season with intriguing salads. Deviled Ham Delight is a good beginning. It's a superior molded salad, delicate yet flavorful and hardy enough for the menfolk. Serve as salad or for a cold plate meal.

Serve the mold on a large platter and surround it with crisp greens and bundles of canned asparagus or whole green beans, garnished with mayonnaise and pimiento strips. 'Tis a pretty platter and an extra good choice for luncheons or buffet suppers.

Deviled Ham Delight

- | | |
|---|------------------------------------|
| 1 envelope unflavored gelatin | 2 small or 1 large can deviled ham |
| 1/4 cup cold water | 1/4 teaspoon onion salt |
| 1 can (12 oz.) vegetable juice cocktail | 1/4 teaspoon prepared horseradish |
| 1/4 cup mayonnaise | 1/4 cup chopped celery |
| | 1/4 cup chopped ripe olives |

Soften gelatin in cold water; add hot vegetable juice cocktail and stir until dissolved. Chill until slightly thickened and beat with rotary beater until fluffy. Fold in rest of ingredients. Pour into mold and chill until firm. Four servings.

Egg Production Key to Poultry Profits

Breeding may determine the egg laying potential of a pullet flock—but the actual rate of laying will be largely determined by the production practices employed.

Heavy production can be achieved only when the flock is healthy, comfortably housed and fed the right amount and combination of nutrients. Pullets should be housed soon after they begin laying. Provide plenty of feed and water and keep it accessible. Use a thin litter the first few weeks and place feed hoppers and waters at a relatively low level.

Temperature is important. A few hot days, coupled with improper ventilation can easily throw a pullet flock out of production. Keep the area cool by sprinkling water and keeping some windows open.

The University of Maryland says that rate of laying is the most important factor in determining feed costs. A flock laying at an 80% rate uses about half as much feed in the production of a dozen eggs as a flock laying at a 30% rate. That's an important point to remember when you're figuring the cost of feed.

To induce maximum feed consumption, the ration should be palatable, uniform in quality and texture, and contain all of the nutrients essential to high egg production. You will find that the manufactured feeds are economical in the long run because there's never any question about their balance, cleanliness, and nutritional factors.

However, regardless of the feeding system, oyster shells and grit are necessary to help a layer utilize feed more efficiently. Oyster shells provide the extra calcium required for good eggshells.

Production for the average farm flock should exceed 200 eggs per year per pullet. According to the Agricultural Service Division of Union Bag & Paper Corporation, makers of multiwall paper bags for feed, any poultryman who follows a sound program of feeding, management and sanitation can achieve this profitable output and make real money.

Only Three Changes in Car License Numbers Below 100 in Illinois

Springfield, Ill.—Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier today announced the assignment of the first 100 automobile license numbers for 1957.

Because of the state's reassignment law, which enables car owners to retain their numbers from year to year, there are only three changes in the list.

The changes are: License number 6, unassigned last year, was assigned to Mrs. Shirley Stratton, wife of Governor William G. Stratton.

License number 47, formerly held by the late Federal Judge J. Leroy Adair of Quincy, has been assigned to his widow, Mrs. E. Adair.

License number 60, formerly held by the Almonzo Newton Benn of Chicago, has been assigned to Oscar W. Ellis of Moline.

Woman Injured Wed. In Car Crash at 83 And Wis. State Line

An unidentified woman was slightly injured Wednesday evening at 6:30 when two cars collided on Rte. 83 just over the Wisconsin State line.

Injuries sustained by the woman were mainly a severe bruise on the head. The cars were not badly damaged and one was able to continue on its way. First aid was administered by the Antioch Rescue squad.

Kenosha County Sheriff's police had not made a report on the accident today at noon, and no information is available.

Relative of Pettys Dies

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Petty and son David, left Sunday for Charleston, Ill. in response to word that Mr. Petty's sister-in-law, Mrs. E. R. Petty had died of a heart attack Sat. The funeral service was held at 10 a.m. yesterday at the Harper Funeral home in Chancey, Ill.

Plenty of Housing at U. of I. 2nd Semester

The University of Illinois will be able to meet all demands for student housing, both for men and for women, for the second semester of the 1956-57 school year, Vernon L. Kretschmer, director of student housing, announced today.

"In previous years, limited housing, particularly for undergraduate women, has been a deterrent to enrollment of some students, especially those entering in February. This situation, due to increased facilities, is no longer true," Kretschmer said.

"Rooms are available both in private student rooming houses as well as in University Residence halls and reservations are being accepted in both types of housing."

Prospective students interested in securing housing accommodations should write to Housing Division, Illini Hall, Champaign, Ill.
